Most Popular Man in New York City

J. H. Timmerman, for thirty years paymaster for the city of New York, and who in that time paid out hundreds of millions of the city's money, recently retired the most popular man the city has ever known. For thirty years every time Mr. Timmerman handed out a check he gave a smile with it, and he thus became the friend of thousands of city employes.

SOCIETY

Margaret Corine Plath, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl A. Plath, was hostess at a party given in honor of her sixth birthday this afternoon. The Plath home was fittingly decorated and the afternoon was spent in playing games of various kinds. The friends who were invited were Muriel Moore, Delbert Delzell, Elizabeth Delzell, Mary Cummings, Delbert Powell, Elizabeth Powell, Ethel Carlson, Zepha Rogers, Jean Rogers, Esther Veatch, Helen Hard, Gretchen Hurn, Helen Mason, Francis Kent, Alexis Lyle, Lucille Healine, Edna Dunbar, Eileen Loomis, Robert Cathey and Ralph Peyton.

A coasting party is planned for the members of the Elks Lodge and their ladies, on Third street, Tuesday evening of next week. The track is in splendid condition, and the traffic on Main street will be carefully watched. Mr. Hunter Savidge has given his large bobbed to the club, and arrangements have been made to have enough sleds. The club will hold open house Tuesday evening.

A group of young people enjoyed a hayrack ride to a mock trial given by the Orindale Literary Society last evening. The trial was held at the Orindale school house, and was enjoyed by the entire party. Those who were on the ride were Misses Greta McMillan, Octavia DeLap, Claudia Spink, Faye West, Vera Houston, Gertrude Parker, Pearl Talley, Nellie McAndrews, Clara Calkins and Messrs. Verle Brewbaker, Will McMillan, Floyd McMillan, Will Weeks, Frank Mills, Wade Short, Gilbert Arnold and John Houston.

Moving Pictures

The best hunt scenes in the Jesse L. Lasky production of "The Duke," which will be seen at the Star theater on Sunday, with the popular screen star, Blanche Sweet, in the stellar role, were taken during the annual spring hunt of one of the most prominent hunt clubs in America. The Lasky company received permission to photograph these scenes with the understanding that the name of the club and its members were not to be revealed. At the completion of the picture the club members were invited to a special performance given in the dining room of the famous club house. "The Duke" is a Paramount release.

Moving pictures have never been turned to a more useful and beneficial purpose than in translating to the screen "A Christmas Carol," that imperishable Dickens' classic, to be exhibited at the Orpheus on January 14 and 15, in Bluebird Photoplays, under the title of "The Right to Be Happy." The special reasons for commending this great work to theater goers are set forth as follows:

1—Until now the marvelous word-pictures Charles Dickens drew of incidents in London life have been the only means whereby the beautiful and beneficial precepts set forth in "A Christmas Carol" might be transmitted to mankind. Bluebird Photoplays, Inc., have visualized the classic and given it the year-round title of "The Right to Be Happy."

2—This title is seemly and appropriate—for the lessons Dickens has taught are applicable to every hour in every day of every person's life. The "Christmas spirit" is only a means of centering, or emphasizing the great purpose of the classic narrative. July or December, November or March—there is no stated season for the human heart to expand in benevolent and worthy deeds.

James J. Jeffries, for years champion heavyweight pugilist of the world, gives an exhibition in "Pennington's Choice," the attraction at the Star theater tonight. Jeffries is teaching boxing to Francis X. Bushman, hero of the story, that Bushman may return to the Canadian wilderness and trounce several of his enemies. The film carries a love story throughout, and shows primitive life in the woods.

"WHERE THE LADIES SHOP"

An Appeal to Taxpayers and Voters

It has been intimated that the county court removed the bounty on coyotes because certain persons were thought to have brought skins from California to secure the larger bounty paid in Klamath county.

I, for one, will give $25 reward for the arrest and conviction of any person or persons bringing skins from an outside county or state to secure the bounty here. Anyone else desiring to add to this reward may leave their names at the Herald office. A man who brings hides of coyotes caught outside Klamath county perjures himself when he tries to collect bounty in this county.

The rabid coyote menace is really becoming very serious. Many farmers and stockmen forced to attend this session of court are very much worried over the condition of affairs around their homes. In many cases the wives and children are being left alone to look after affairs. What are they going to do in case of an attack?

There are incidents in the last 30 days in Langell Valley where the women have been kept in the house all day by a mad coyote. Mad coyotes are reported very numerous around Swan lake and the Bly country and it is hard to find a man from this section of the country who has not had some experience with a mad animal.

So far none have been seen in the country west of Link river, but it is only a question of time until they will be there.

Men sitting around the fire in their own homes in Klamath Falls feel safe because of the precautions that have been taken by the town authorities. They do not realize the great fear to which the country people are being subjected. Let them and their families get out in a sparsely settled country and they will ask for protection as quickly as any one.

One child's life is worth more than all the bounty that has ever been paid in Klamath county. Children are being sent to school on horses, but even then the danger is very great for a rabid animal of any kind fears nothing.

Many other counties are paying much more than is asked here and the danger is not considered nearly so great.

So do not begrudge the few cents you will have to pay. We are sending out invitations broadcast to farmers and stockmen to come here to help build up the stock business. Shall they come only to find the country overrun with mad dogs and coyotes?

The petitions sent out over the country, asking for a $10 bounty, are being signed, with only a few exceptions, by all who can get to see one of them. The danger is imminent; action should be taken at once. Mr. Taxpayer, sign the petition.

Yours sincerely,
A TAXPAYER

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

The high school orchestra accompanied the assembly singing Thursday morning, improving the music a great deal.

As a result of several attempts to raise money for suits and shoes, some of which were very successful, the basketball boys now have neat, at tractive suits and shoes, which enable them to "stand up" through a game. The girls' team is talking of doing something similar in order to buy shoes also.

By Wednesday of next week many gay, light-hearted students will be thrown in the depths of despair, perhaps never to rise, for by that time examination exemptions will be known and those whose conduct or grades have been unsatisfactory must write on their subjects. Those who get off this year should be thankful indeed.

One section of Freshman English class dramatized "The Legend of Sleepy Hollow" Thursday, very much to its credit as well as amusement.

GRACE M. E. CHURCH TO HAVE SPECIAL SERVICE

Sunday morning will be a "Men's Day to Church" Sunday at the Methodist church. Every member of the church is expected to be present and a special service has been arranged. There will be a short sermon by the pastor, followed by a program conducted by the lay members. It is hoped to make this a meeting for general discussion and for suggestions to improve the work of the church.

The following music will be given: Come Jesus Redeemer (Bartlett), Mrs. V. T. Moteschenbacher; Anthem, Hush My Soul, Choir; duet, Praise Thou Jehovah (Donizetti), Lawrence Mahaffey and V. T. Moteschenbacher.
